Fountainview Academy is pleased to provide network services for students, including networked academy computers and wireless internet. The network and the Internet are valuable educational tools. However, it must be understood that the Fountainview Academy email system and all network resources are the property of Fountainview Academy. Use of these systems and all resources on the Fountainview Academy network is a privilege, not a right, afforded to students of the academy. The Academy reserves the right to monitor and inspect all incoming and outgoing traffic (including email) to insure that school policies are being maintained. The academy's systems should not be used for sensitive or personal information. Understand that no user of the Academy's network service should have a reasonable expectation of privacy in anything created, sent or received through the Academy's system.

While at Fountainview Academy, you should not expect privacy of the contents of your personal computer or other media devices including, but not limited to, cell phones, iPods, external hard-drives, or your personal files on the school's network. Personal computers and media devices will be routinely monitored, including any time the device has been off-campus. An individual search will be conducted if there is any suspicion that you have violated the Academy's policies or the law. Designated staff have the right at any time to request to see the contents of your personal computer and media devices.

The following guidelines are intended to clarify the student's responsibilities in using the Fountainview Academy network and personal media devices. In addition, the AUP (Acceptable Use Policy) outlines standards and practices designed to protect the student and help ensure that all Fountainview Academy students have access to the network resources provided by the Academy.

If you have any questions about acceptable practices or any other issues regarding the use of the Academy's network you should contact the Information Systems Director or Student Life Director.

GENERAL GUIDELINES

- Students may not use network resources and facilities for any purpose that may violate any applicable laws or regulations.
- Fountainview Academy maintains a firewall that records all incoming and outgoing accesses. This log is reviewed to analyze security and insure that policies are being maintained. Network administrators will investigate any suspicious or questionable activities (of which they are aware) occurring on academy computers or its network.
- Violations of the Fountainview Academy acceptable use policy will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. Students in violation of the policy are subject to disciplinary action by Fountainview Academy up to and including expulsion. In addition to any disciplinary actions, students may be held financially responsible for any damage caused through the inappropriate use of the Academy's network. This includes, but is not limited to, damages to hardware, software, networking equipment, labor required to repair or replace network components, and any legal liabilities or damages.
- You shall not try to circumvent any security measures used in conjunction with the network including firewalls, password protection, hidden files and encryption.

Any infraction of this policy is subject to a two-step enforcement plan. Depending on the nature of the offense, it could also lead to suspension or dismissal.

1. First offence: 2 weeks total technology blackout, no tech use for any reason.
2. Second offence: 2 weeks total technology blackout, plus 2 weeks of limited tech use - only 2 hours per day for homework (7-9 pm) and one contact opportunity (email/video conference) with parents each day.

INTERNET

Fountainview Academy uses an industry recognized filtering program which is set up to restrict access to “undesirable” sites but it must be understood that, even with frequent updates, it is impossible to guarantee that no such material can be accessed. Staff will also monitor student use of the Internet via logs and monitoring software. Inappropriate use includes the following:

- Accessing, transmitting, downloading, distributing or storing materials considered inappropriate, offensive, threatening, abusive, defamatory, unlawful, sexually explicit, sexist, racist, discriminatory, fraudulent or disrespectful to others. Examples of these types of materials include jokes, song lyrics, or any information that relates to pornography, gambling, hate literature, criminal skills, or sexual, racial, physical, mental or religious discrimination. Additionally, students are prohibited from accessing materials from sects/cults or gaming sites.
- Intentionally or maliciously spreading viruses or otherwise using the Fountainview network/computer equipment to vandalize others’ property, including but not limited to data, websites, or servers. It is a crime to intentionally cause harm via the Internet, and the appropriate authorities will be contacted in the event that a Fountainview student violates this portion of the AUP.
- Ultimate responsibility for traffic that does not conform to this policy rests with the individual who originates or facilitates the distribution of that traffic.

If a student is found deliberately accessing inappropriate material in violation of their signed agreement, that student will lose his/her Internet access, and may additionally be dealt with by Discipline Committee.
